

WIND TURBINE MAINTENANCE TECH

$48,800 AVERAGE ANNUAL SALARY***

Are you a rock-climber who loves extreme heights? Would you consider yourself environmentally friendly? Being a wind turbine maintenance technician could be a great career for you! Wind turbine maintenance technicians are responsible for performing the complicated repairs and inspections on existing turbines. Sometimes these repairs take place at the very top of the turbine what is called the nacelle operating room. This operating room houses the instruments that measure wind speed and direction.
